Strategic University Project 2018-2022

- « (...) Thus, while the first five-year contract 2012-2017 was naturally intended to set up and structure the merged university. The 2018-2022 contract will be placed under the triple seal of innovation for all the university's fields of activity, the strengthening of the training-research link and the quality approach as the guiding principles for achieving excellence, particularly with the support of A*Midex. »

Unistra : dix ans après le « big bang » de la fusion et des RCE, nouvelle phase pour la DGS (F. Dehan)

I am convinced that, ten years after the merger, we must move into a phase of accelerating the transformation of public action. Of course, the rise of administration and its professionalization can create tensions in the academic world. But we are in a context of scarce resources and our role is to help core businesses (training, research) to have more ease and room for manoeuvre," says Frédéric Dehan, Director General of Services at the University of Strasbourg
